GW Writing Center

Do you or your students need help with writing projects? The GW Writing Center at Himmelfarb has reopened for the Fall 2019 semester! Their hours this semester are Mondays from 4-8PM and Wednesdays from 3-6PM. While you can always make an appointment at the main location in Gelman Library, appointments at Himmelfarb are exclusively for SMHS, GWSPH, and SON students, faculty, and staff. They are staffed by consultants with expertise in the health sciences, specifically Public Health. These consultants can help with everything from literature reviews to grant proposals, at all stages of the writing process. Call the Center to schedule an appointment at 202-994-3765. Walk-ins are welcome, but scheduled appointments will be honored first.

The Writing Center also schedules appointments via Zoom for distance education students. For those appointments, you are able to videoconference with a consultant and share your document with them. Distance appointments can be scheduled online, but you must specify in the scheduling process that you are a distance education student and need a Zoom appointment. Click here for more information on Zoom appointments.

For more information on how the Writing Center can help medical professionals, see their website.

Writing Resources at Himmelfarb

The Himmelfarb Library has a number of writing resources available in its collections. We have books on grant writing and scientific writing in medicine, both physical and e-text.

We have Research Guides on both APA and AMA citation styles, access to style guides for both (in physical and e-text format), and reference librarians who can help answer any additional citation questions you may have.

We provide access to and support for RefWorks for managing citations. Your RefWorks account stays with you even after you leave GW, which makes it an excellent tool for research and writing throughout your career!

If you have any questions about our available resources, contact the Reference Desk at 202-994-2850.
